20th SCI/RSC Medicinal Chemistry Symposium

Sunday 8 - Wednesday 11 September 2019
Churchill College, Cambridge, UK

Organised by SCI’s Fine Chemicals Group and RSC’s Biological and Medicinal Chemistry Sector

#20thCamMedChem
The Medicinal Chemistry Symposium 2019
The organisers invite you to the 20th SCI / RSC Medicinal Chemistry Symposium, Europe’s premier biennial Medicinal Chemistry event, focusing on first disclosures and new strategies in Medicinal Chemistry as well as commemorating 40+ years of drug discovery. The event will be preceded by an Early Career Medicinal Chemistry Workshop on Sunday afternoon.

Confirmed Speakers
Apelin: a multifaceted GPCR and a target for the treatment of glioblastoma and pulmonary arterial hypertension
Robert Glen, University of Cambridge

Ventures in new target space: drugging the DUBs
Tim Harrison, Almac

LUBAC and linear ubiquitin chains: novel tools to study immune signalling
David House, GlaxoSmithKline

Novel potent and selective 5-HT\textsubscript{2C} receptor agonists for the treatment of neurological disorders
Lynette Smyth, Abbvie

Covalent fragment discovery unlocks an intractable protein-protein interaction
Ed Tate, Imperial College London

The discovery of the selective orexin 1 receptor antagonist (SO-1RA) ACT-539313 for the treatment of anxiety disorders
Jodi Williams, Idorsia Pharmaceuticals

Attendees
This conference will be of interest to both academic and industrial scientists engaged in all aspects of the drug discovery and development process.

Call for Abstracts
The organising committee wishes to solicit late-breaking, high impact medicinal chemistry talks to finalise the scientific programme. Potential contributions should be communicated to the secretariat at conferences@soci.org by Friday 9th November 2018. A number of conference places will be reserved for poster presenters and contributions are invited from the whole field of medicinal chemistry. Those presenting a poster may also elect to advertise their poster via oral presentation of a single slide ‘flash’ poster. Detailed procedures and submission deadlines for poster abstracts will be provided in the second announcement.

Sponsorship & Exhibition
Churchill College is an ideal venue for an exhibition. All refreshments, lunches, the exhibition and posters are situated in a single area, ensuring excellent access to delegates throughout the meeting. If you are interested in sponsoring this event, please contact daisy.goddard@soci.org for further information and costs.
